

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I don't want unnecessary additional taxes added to my phone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. This would make my current telephone service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make lots calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

My wireless telephone is primarily used for emergency purposes. I do not make frivolous calls, nor do I call thousands of customers per day. Charges should be assessed based on actual use. Please, on behalf of the ordinary citizen - reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Sincerely,

Thomas Reed
